UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

AASYLEI LOGGERVALE, AASYLEI
HARDGE-LOGGERVALE, and AAOTTAE LOGGERVALE,

No. C 20-04679 WHA

Plaintiffs,

v.

COUNTY OF ALAMEDA, STEVEN
HOLLAND, MONICA POPE, KEITH
LEEPER, ANTHONY DESOUSA, and DOES 1-50, inclusive,

ORDER ON RECONSIDERATION RE
CROSS MOTIONS FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT

Our initial order re summary judgment failed adequately to address defendants' argument that the automobile exception to the warrant requirement permitted deputies to search plaintiffs' car (Dkt. No. 106). This order does so now. Our prior order granting summary judgment to plaintiffs is VACATED as to that issue. Cross motions for summary judgment as to the search are now both DENIED.

The automobile exception allows warrantless searches when officers possess probable cause to believe evidence of a crime or contraband will be found in a car. See United States v. Ross, 456 U.S. 798, 807–08 (1982). Here, plaintiffs' identifications purportedly evinced Mrs. Loggervale's violations of Vehicle Code Sections 12951 or 22511.56(a). As stated, whether probable cause of those violations existed must go to a jury. The identifications also supposedly evinced Penal Code Section 148(a)(1) (resisting arrest, as to all plaintiffs). If deputies unlawfully detained plaintiffs, however, they were not performing lawful "duties," so probable cause of resisting arrest cannot follow. Blankenhorn v. City of Orange, 485 F.3d 463,

1 472 (9th Cir. 2007) (cleaned up). As for Penal Code Section 243(b) (battery on an officer) by
2 Aayslei and Mrs. Loggervale, video does not show the contact. A reasonable jury could find
3 Mrs. Loggervale did not willfully touch Deputy Holland with the door or her arm and/or that
4 any touch by either plaintiff was not harmful or offensive — willful touching and a harmful or
5 offensive manner being two essential elements. See CALCRIM. No. 945 (2020) (Holland
6 Decl. ¶¶ 47–49; Exh. A at 6:20–7:25; Pope Decl. ¶¶ 39–41; Exh. E at 4:00–6:00). Were a
7 reasonable jury to so find, it could conclude no probable cause existed. It was clearly
8 established that lacking probable cause of any crime, the automobile exception could not
9 justify the search. See United States v. Cervantes, 703 F.3d 1135, 1140 (9th Cir. 2012); see also 10 United States v. Job, 871 F.3d 852, 862 (9th Cir. 2017). Lacking probable cause of the 11 location of the identifications, it was also clearly established that searching for Aayslei and 12 Aaottae's identifications was unlawful. See United States v. Rodgers, 656 F.3d 1023, 1029
13 (9th Cir. 2011). In short, there remain “question[s] of fact best resolved by a jury,” which 14 preclude summary judgment on qualified immunity for the search. Wilkins v. City of Oakland,
15 350 F.3d 949, 955 (9th Cir. 2003).

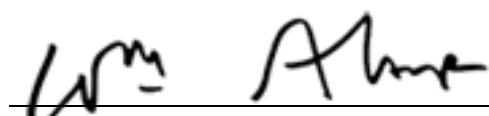

16 Summary judgment to plaintiffs is also DENIED. If officers lawfully insisted on Mrs.
17 Loggervale's identification, then a jury could find there existed probable cause for one or more
18 violations. Plaintiffs have failed to show that identification cards cannot constitute “evidence”
19 of those offenses; some authority suggests the opposite. See Messerschmidt v. Millender, 565
20 U.S. 535, 552 n.7 (2012).

21 To be clear, all other issues resolved by the order at Dkt. No. 106 remain unaffected.

22 IT IS SO ORDERED.
